This lecture will focus on how to know the evidence you need for practice, and will highlight some of our field’s latest and greatest clinically-applicable research.

In this handout, I provide you with links to current solutions to explore, to accompany the lecture:

1) ASHA’s Evidence Maps
   asha.org/evidence-maps/
   TIP: Click on Tutorials (right) to learn more about the maps!

2) SpeechBite
   speechbite.com
Links and references discussed in the live talk:

Additional Links:
Consolidated Framework for Implementation Research at www.cfirguide.org
The Behavior Change Wheel: www.behaviourchangewheel.com

Presentation notes: